

SYNOPSIS

MONOLOGUE TO THREE

Almost thirty years later, a deputy, a judge, and an university dean present their truths about a fact in which they became involved at the age of seventeen, in the college. What was meant to be just a teenage jest in search of affirmation of masculinity, became a game of conquest, revealing the personality traits and character of each one in front of the fact and its consequences, which, since then, they just want to forget.